Advertising – Account Management

Ontario College Graduate Certificate | 1 year
Hazel McCallion Campus (Mississauga)

Get ready for a career in advertising strategy and management.

Prepare for a career in advertising

In this one-year graduate certificate program, you'll learn to plan, develop and create complete digital and traditional advertising and marketing communications campaigns. You'll graduate with confidence, ready to contribute your skills to a professional advertising agency or marketing department.

Co-op option: Get advertising work experience

Co-op experience can make all the difference. As an advertising student at Sheridan, you can apply for a four-month co-op work term. This on-the-job experience can be just the career boost you need to land a great job in advertising. Our co-op program is competitive — you'll need to meet certain requirements to qualify.

Create an integrated marketing communications campaign

Set your business objectives. Research your target audience. Learn how advertising and marketing communications can influence consumer behaviour. Then, use industry-standard software to create an integrated advertising campaign that combines traditional, digital and social media strategies. As an advertising professional, you'll understand target markets and develop messaging that speaks to the consumer.
