Build the skills to keep goods, businesses and communities moving.

Power the global economy

Every product has a journey. Learn how goods move from suppliers to customers through sourcing, procurement, logistics, transportation and operations. You'll develop practical business knowledge while building the skills employers need to keep organization running efficiently.

Learn with today's technology

Build experience using business analytics, AI-supported decision-making, Enterprise Resource Planning (ERP) systems and digital supply chain tools. Through simulations, case studies and applied projects, you'll solve real operational challenges while preparing for an increasingly technology-driven industry.

Prepare for an in-demand career

Graduate ready for careers across manufacturing, retail, healthcare, transportation, government and more. Optional co-op applied learning and integrated industry projects help you build real-world experience and confidence before you graduate.

Career opportunities

Supply chain professionals help organizations move, produce and buy products efficiently, reduce costs, manage risks and improve operations. Graduates are prepared for careers across public and private sectors, supporting everything from manufacturing and healthcare to retail, transportation and logistics.

You might find roles such as:

- Supply Chain Coordinator
- Logistics Coordinator
- Operations Coordinator
- Purchasing Coordinator
- Procurement Coordinator
- Purchasing Assistant
- Inventory Planner
- Transportation Coordinator
