1.3. Block Transfer

The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences is responsible for conducting the academic evaluation of General Education courses, ensuring the courses satisfy the requirements for General Education and determining the corresponding Field of Study at the Degree Breadth level. The Office of the Registrar will confirm students' General Education courses meet the cumulative grade point average and minimum individual grade requirements for Block Transfer and will process such Block Transfers.

4.3. Course Exclusions

The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences has the responsibility for communicating new curriculum developments in Degree Breadth to the degree programs. Academic Faculties, in consultation with SPARK, will determine if an exclusion is warranted for any courses based on the course being too similar to the program's core curriculum. The Academic Faculties will communicate any exclusions, or changes to existing exclusions, to the students, the Office of the Registrar for system implementation and The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences for planning and communication purposes.

4.4. Accreditation Breadth Courses

In cases where degree programs are governed by accrediting or other industry/professional regulatory bodies requiring specialized liberal arts courses, the Academic Faculties may deliver Accreditation Breadth courses to prevent an extraordinary number of credit hours. The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences will support the Academic Faculties in their development of such courses.

Responsible Executive:

The Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences will interpret and apply the policy and has the responsibility to draft any associated procedures. The Provost and Vice President Academic has the responsibility to approve any associated procedures.
