FINAL DRAFT

In ~~today's~~ ~~a~~ twenty first century humans have <sup>made</sup> stunning progresses. ~~with~~ Computers have been placed almost in all fields. Computers replaced so many jobs from accounts ~~dept~~ departments, finance departments, academic departments and from many other departments, ~~but~~ but technology advancement can not replace the teaching job. Though we have computer usages in schools mandatory, but teachers have their own importance. Without teaching jobs our society can't not function properly. We need ~~teachers~~ <sup>persons</sup> ~~to~~ to teach our children, to guide our children and to help our children in many ways.

Teaching job is very important. When our young children start their school, they need teachers who can teach them. They answer all the questions of their students. They teach discipline to their students.

Teachers provide the basic knowledge to all the children. Some teachers become the role model for their students. Teachers teach all the subjects, then they initiate the students to learn more deeply. Computers can not initiate anybody to learn something. Only teachers recognize the ~~the student's~~ needs of their students and then teach them accordingly.

Teachers are the best guides for our children. Without their guidance student can not learn the important lessons of life. In the schools we need teachers, who can provide practical knowledge to their students, computers can give all the information but for practical knowledge we need teachers in the schools. Teachers show the right path to their students. They give valuable instructions to their students so that they <sup>can</sup> achieve success in their life. Teachers guidance is <sup>an</sup> very valuable thing in the student life.

Teachers are very helpful for their students. From kindergarten to high schools, students need ~~teachers~~ help in every subject. With the help of teachers students learn to stand ~~on~~ on their own. Then in higher classes they can take help from computers for their further studies. Even in this computer era, students need the ~~teachers~~ help of their teachers to study and to operate computers.

So, we need persons to perform the teaching jobs. Computers can never replace the teachers.
